Friday, March 30. 1722.

Lisbon, February 26.

ADVICE was brought hither last Week that the Fleet expected from the Rio de Janeiro was met 200 Leagues from hence, and that 'tis likely it will arrive in this Port towards the Beginning of next Month. The Fleet outward bound for the Bay of All-Saints, and the Ship designed for the East Indies, will be ready for sailing from hence about the End of next Month. At the Assembly of the Royal Academy of History held on the 29th of last Month, Father Lucas of St. Catherine delivered to the Secretary of the Academy a Catalogue of Masters whom the Kingdom of Portugal has furnished to the Order of Knights Templers since the Year 1118, the Time of its first Establishment at Jerusalem, to that of its Dissolution. Don Manoel de Azevedo Fortes presented some Additions to the Method he had before prepared for rendering easie to the Engineers the laying down of Geographical Charts. Father Don Manoel Caetano de Souza read some Pages of his new Ecclesiastical History of Lisbon. Doctor Don Manoel Pereira Sylva Leal, promised to bring at the next Assembly his Historical Catalogue of the Bishops of Janha and de Guarda: Lastly, the Count de Villa-mayor reported the Progress made by the Academy the first Year of its Institution, and at the Close of the Assembly Father Manoel de Bonaventura was named Provincial Academist.

Hague, March 10. This State having proposed a Renewal of Commerce with Sweden, the Conferences between the Commissioners on both Parts are appointed to be held at Stockholm. — Advices from Copenhagen say, that the Danish Ministry have intimated some Surprize at the slow Proceeding of this State towards a Renewal of a Treaty of Commerce, and adjusting other Matters in Dispute between the two Nations; 'tis said also, the States Envoy was desired to recommend to their High Mightinesses the Payment, as soon as possible, of the Arrears due to his Danish Majesty, who, though he might pay himself Part of them till the rest were liquidated, yet his Majesty has chosen hitherto to reject such Methods, desiring rather that all Points in Dispute be adjusted in the friendliest Manner between both Nations. Those Advices mention also the pressing Instances made by the Czar for obtaining Passage of his Ships Toll-free through the Sound, and likewise his Danish Majesty's absolute Refusal to allow of such Exemption; but it is intimated withal, that in case Matters come to a Rupture between the Czar and Denmark, the Danes may stand in need of Assistance from other Powers who are immediately interested in the Baltick Commerce; and therefore 'tis hoped they will not let themselves be intimidated by the Czar's Preparations, nor be amused by Proffers of seeming Advantages particular to their Subjects, but rather reflect seriously on the Uncertainty of all Promises, and the pernicious Consequences infallibly attending Trade, if ever a free Passage through the Sound become an additional Attchivement to the many others the Czar has made in his Navigation and Commerce. — Letters from Ratisbon say, that the King of Prussia's Graciousness in restoring the Revenues of the Cloister of Hamersleben to the Papists in his Dominions, and before the Protestant Grievances are redressed in the Palatinate, has disturbed the Measures of the Jesuits, who instead of being contented at that Restitution, are vexed to see it destroy the violent Projects they had formed against the Protestants, and founded on his Prussian Majesty's Detention of those Revenues. The Envoy of this State at Vienna is ordered to represent to the Emperour this extraordinary Instance of Grace shewn by his Prussian Majesty to his Popish Subjects, and to intreat his Imperial Majesty on the Part of this State, that he will shew equal Benevolence, by hastening Redress to the distressed Protestants in the Empire. — Advices from Paris say, that the States Ambassadors there has not yet lost all Hopes of obtaining for the Dutch East India Company the Restitution of Fort Arguin, lately seized by the French on the Coast of Guiney.
